

Your First Customers

Who will you get to help you begin your business? Your friends and family, of course! Who else would be willing to help you have a successful start? If you don't know 50 people, that's okay, list those you do know.

Think of everyone you know that needs skin care or glamour and that you think may be willing to host a party or have a facial with you. Of these put a check mark next to the top 10 who you think DEFINITELY will help you get started. Send those people the post card.
